It's Scholarship Time

Spring is here! This is the time of year the days begin to get longer and warmer. We start wearing lighter clothing as we spend more time outdoors gardening, going for walks or chatting with neighbors. It's also time of year when we gear up for the summer. If you're a parent, that means finding summer opportunities for your younger kids and helping your older ones, and yourself, apply for scholarships. This newsletter has information on both of those things, including lots more information you should know to take advantage of opportunities available for you as a PHA resident.

If you or your children are planning to go college or vocational school in the fall, we ask that you please pay careful attention to the scholarship information.

When it comes to summer programs for kids, many of our parents miss out because they miss the spring sign up deadlines. We don't want you or your children to miss out on fun, enriching and educational activities over the long summer months. If you need more information or have questions, check in with your local study center or contact me.

We hope the spring brings you joyous moments and lots sunshine.

Thrive Together: Join the Family Self-Sufficiency Revolution!!

The Family Self-Sufficiency (FSS) program is designed to help families become more independent by giving them the tools and support they need to reach their goals. It helps people get better jobs, finish their education, and save money for important things like buying A house or starting a business.

How the FSS Savings Account Works

When you receive federal housing assistance, your rent is based on your income.

That means:

When you enroll in the FSS program...

Families who join the program work with a coordinator who helps them set goals. These goals might include things like getting a high school diploma, learning new job skills, or improving their credit. As they work toward these goals, the program helps them by providing advice, training, and sometimes even scholarships.

One important part of the FSS program is that as families start earning more money, part of their rent is put into a special savings account called an escrow account. This “escrow” money grows over time and can be used for big things, like buying a home, when they graduate from the program. In short, the FSS program is about helping families get the skills, support, and savings they need to become self-sufficient and create better lives for themselves.

Read on to find out how one of our most recent graduates benefited from the program.

Learning Without Limits: FSS Participant in Progress!

Mohamud arrived in the United States from Somalia as a refugee in 2014, speaking very little English. He moved into the Public Housing Authority (PHA) and began working hard to build a better life for himself and his family. In 2019, he joined the Family Self-Sufficiency (FSS) Program. Since then, Mohamud has made significant progress. He earned his Commercial Driver's License (CDL), graduated high school, and completed ESOL courses, becoming fully proficient in English. Education has been an important tool for change in his life, and he's modeled the importance of it for his children, one of whom was awarded a PHA scholarship and both of whom are now full-time college students.

When asked how the FSS Program has helped, Mohamud said, "FSS staff gives good advice, and the escrow helps me save money." He appreciates the guidance and financial support the program provides. He encourages others to join the program, saying, "I would tell people to come to Housing and talk to Feza."

Mohamud's story is one of hard work, determination, and the support that has helped him, and his family thrive. We're so proud of him! Keep going, Mohamed!

We also hosted EcoMaine, where students enjoyed making their own paper from misprinted newspaper.

We had a lot of fun decorating for the Winter Holiday Party.

We've also been doing some Science Experiments, including making Crystals and Slime.

Changes Coming to Riverton Park – What You Need to Know

Dear Riverton Park Residents,

As you know, Riverton Park is being renovated! The Portland Housing Authority (PHA) is working to make your homes better, and we want to keep you updated. We know change can be confusing, so here's what you need to know.

Riverton Park is getting important upgrades to fix up homes so they are safer and more comfortable for everyone.

How Will This Affect You?

- You Will Not Lose Your Home: No one has to move away forever. Some people may need to move for a little while, but PHA will help find a temporary home.
- Rent Stays Affordable: Your rent will still be based on how much money you make.
- New Leases: Everyone will get a new lease, but your rights as a tenant will stay the same.
- Better Homes: Expect new floors, better heating and cooling, and nicer common areas.

What's the Plan?

We are planning the changes carefully so that things go smoothly. Here's what will happen:

1. Meetings for Residents – We will have meetings to explain everything and answer questions.
2. Checking Apartments – Workers will look at homes to see what needs fixing.
3. Temporary Moves – To fix unit, you will temporarily relocate, but don't worry, we will help you find a temporary home.
4. Moving Back In – Once everything is ready, you will return to an updated home.

Your Rights and Responsibilities

- When you need to move temporarily, we will tell you ahead of time.
- Keep following your lease and PHA rules and paying rent on time.
- Come to meetings and stay informed about what's happening.

How to Stay Updated

- Attend Meetings – Come and learn what's happening.
- Read Notices – Look for letters and signs with important information.
- Check The Riverton Park Renovation Website – www.rivertonparkmaine.com/home
- Call Us – If you have questions, visit the Riverton Park office or Study Center

Thank you for your patience as we work to make Riverton Park a better place to live. If you have any questions, please reach out to us.

Join the Resident Advisory Board

The Portland Housing Authority invites residents to share their experiences and support our community. Currently we are looking for residents in the Kennedy Park, Riverton Park, and Franklin Towers. All other area's are represented.
